Annie Wayland is one of Central Oregon's most recognized real estate professionals, known for her deep local knowledge, extensive network, and ability to make complex transactions feel remarkably straightforward.

Having spent her childhood in Sunriver, Annie offers clients an insider's perspective on the community, market, and lifestyle that comes from decades of personal connection to the area. Today, she works with buyers and sellers throughout Central Oregon, helping clients navigate everything from luxury homes and vacation properties to investment opportunities, first-time purchases, and lifestyle-driven moves.

Clients appreciate Annie's responsiveness, honest advice, and strategic approach. A former Division I tennis player at the University of Oregon, she brings a competitive mindset to every transaction while maintaining the calm, approachable style that has earned her a loyal client base and strong referral network.

In addition to serving her clients, Annie remains actively involved in leadership at both the local and state level, helping shape the future of real estate in Oregon and advocating for homeowners throughout the region.

Backed by deep local roots, industry leadership, and a reputation for getting things done, Annie's goal is simple: to help her clients navigate real estate with confidence while making the process as easy, efficient, profitable, and even a little fun, as possible.
